ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
AUDITOR OF THE STATE,
FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING NOVEMBER 30, 1898.

RALEIGH, N. C., December 15, 1898.

To His Excellency, DANIEL L. RUSSELL,
Governor of North Carolina.

SIR:—I have the honor to lay before you, as required by law, the annual report of this Department for the fiscal year beginning December 1, 1897, and ending November 30, 1898.

The balance of the General Fund in the hands of the State Treasurer is shown, by the Auditor's ledger, to be $146,097.58; and the balance of the Educational Fund is $4,895.54; the total balance being $150,993.12. This ledger, however, only records the balance as expressed by the issue of warrants drawn in favor of, and against, the Public Treasury.

Such warrants as were issued, and not paid at the close of November 30th, are chargeable to the State Treasurer as so much cash as may be represented by them, and these outstanding warrants aggregate the amount of $39,271.10.

Partial payments, by Sheriffs and Tax Collectors of various counties into the Treasury on accounts which had not been finally audited at the close of the fiscal year, aggregate the sum of $25,734.99, and these items combined show the cash balance in the hands of the State Treasurer, at the end of the year, to have been $215,999.21.

Outstanding and unpaid warrants against the Treasury may be referred to for the purpose of convenience as follows:

Warrants issued prior to the close of the fiscal year ending

November 30, 1896, Nos. 6742, 6940, 8773, 8905, amounting to $75.87.

Warrants issued in December, 1896, for claims in bills of cost against the State in the Pamlico and Carteret County Oyster Cases, Nos. 11678 and 11818, amounting to $5,611.15.

Warrants issued for expenses incurred in mobilizing United States Volunteers, North Carolina troops, for the Spanish-American war, $21,867.43.

Sundry other warrants issued in 1898 and in transit, $11,716.65.

A full and complete exhibit of the warrants issued on account of mobilization of United States Volunteers is presented in this letter under the head of "State Guard, Special."

There is, in this Report, an introduction of a number of new accounts comprehending various disbursements which have heretofore been included in the account of "Contingencies," and are designated as follows:

Fuel, Lights and Water.

Governor's Mansion and Grounds.

Laborers' Pay Roll.

Legal Services and Expenses.

Paper Account.

Postage and Stationery.

Reprint of Supreme Court Reports.

Supreme Court Contingencies.

These additional accounts involve a new classification of disbursements which offers such advantage as may arise from a presentation, in condensed form, of the annual expenditures for the various purposes designated.

COMPARATIVE OBSERVATIONS.

The receipts of the Public Fund for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1898, were $1,334,082.24; an increase of $41,534.57 over the year 1897, and an increase of $74,623.84 over the year 1896.

The disbursements for the year ending November 30, 1898, were $1,283,971.11. The disbursements for the year 1897 were

$1,303,904.11, and the disbursements for the year 1896 were $1,244,917.57. It will be seen that the disbursements for 1898 show a decrease of $19,933 from the year 1897, and an increase of $39,053.54 over the year 1896. The import of these figures may be made clearer by reference to some of the causes of expenditures for the years under comparative consideration. The increase of disbursements for the year 1897 over the year 1896, was $58,986.54. This increase is more than accounted for by the fact that the expense of a session of the General Assembly ($70,760.75) is included in the disbursements for 1897. Excluding this item of expense, the general ordinary disbursements for 1897 prove to be $1,233,143.36, or $11,774.21 less than the general ordinary disbursements for 1896. In the absence of any unusual or extraordinary expenditure, there would be no tenable reason or cause for any increase of disbursements for the year 1898, over the general ordinary disbursements for the years 1896 and 1897, and yet, there appears to be an increase in expenses of $39,053.54 over the year 1896, and an increase of $50,827.75 over the year 1897, not including the extraordinary expenses of the General Assembly. These increases can be explained and accounted for by the following unusual and extraordinary expenditures: A special appropriation of $57,000 for the North Carolina Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind at Raleigh; a special appropriation of $20,000 for the North Carolina School for the Deaf and Dumb at Morganton, and an unusual expenditure, as shown by the Auditor's books, of $23,307.96, incurred on account of the mobilization of the United States Volunteers, North Carolina State troops, enlisted for the Spanish-American war. The aggregate of these three items is $100,307.96, all of which was disbursed by Auditor's warrants during the year 1898, and constitutes a special, not an annual, expenditure. If the aggregate of these three items be deducted from the total expenditure for 1898, the general ordinary expenses for that year would appear to be $1,183,663.15. A comparative statement then shows the general ordinary disbursements for 1898 to be $61,254.42 less than for 1896, and $49,480.21 less than for 1897, excluding for 1897 the General Assembly account.

The revenue receipts from real and personal property for 1898 were $5,184.46 more than for 1897.

The revenue receipts from railroad, telegraph, steamboat and canal property for 1898 were $72,974.80; an increase of $15,393.61 over the year 1896, and an increase of $9,801.11 over the year 1897.

It should be noted that in making a comparison of the revenue receipts from real and personal property, and railroad, telegraph and steamboat property, the General Fund only is considered. No account is taken of the Special Fund for Pensions derived from the same sources under a tax of three and one-third cents on the one hundred dollars value of property. This fund is not to be regarded as permanent, and it has not been customary to include it in noting comparisons of the receipts of the General Fund from year to year. The revenue for the Pension Fund is independently stated on Part I, pages 37-45 of this Report.

It may be noted that the receipts from dividends on the State Stock in the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad are shown by this Report to be $12,666. This amount constitutes the State's share of a semi-annual dividend of 1 per cent. The second semi-annual dividend for the year 1898 was not reported in time to be included in the account of the fiscal year.

The revenue from Unlisted Taxables, as reported and collected by Sheriffs and Tax Collectors, under Schedules "B" and "C," and known as license or privilege taxes, for the year 1898, was $116,287.98; an increase of $27,101.77 over the year 1896, and an increase of $9,764.05 over the year 1897. Some of the various sources from which this revenue is derived may be observed with interest.

The item of incomes is reported in two classes, one being incomes from property not taxed, and one being incomes and profits from salaries and fees. It appears from the returns made, that the sum total of incomes received by citizens of this State from property not taxed, which property may be regarded as State and United States bonds, is $14,359. The revenue from this class of incomes is $717.95. The amount of incomes and profits from salaries and fees returned for taxation is $770,248, and the revenue therefrom is $3,876.20. The total amount of incomes reported for taxation in 1898 is $784,607; an increase of $233,714 over the year 1896, and an increase of $153,983 over the year 1897. The total revenue from incomes for the year 1898 is $4,594.15; an increase of $1,863.58 over 1896, and an increase of $1,134.13 over 1897.

The revenue from circuses, menageries and sideshows for 1898 presents a decrease of $760.50 from 1897.

The tax of $25 on persons or firms buying, selling and trading in horses or mules as a business for profit appeared to be accompanied by numerous obstacles to Sheriffs and Tax Collectors during the year 1897, and such of this tax as was collected was generally reported under the head of "Livery." The sum total returned during that year was $905.90. Greater success seems to have attended the efforts of the Tax Collectors in this particular in 1898, and the returns show a revenue of $1,049.84 from livery, and a revenue of $2,915.90 from horse traders. The total increase from this source for 1898, over 1897, is $3,059.84.

Dealers paying a purchase tax on cigars, cheroots, manufactured tobacco, cigarettes and cigarette paper, yielded for 1898 a revenue of $11,717.77, an increase of $4,403.49 over the year 1897. General merchants paying a purchase tax of one-tenth of 1 per cent on purchases, report a revenue of $27,686.11; an increase of $5,668.50 over the year 1897. Liquor dealers paying a purchase tax of 2 per cent on purchases yielded, for 1898, a revenue of $7,712.95; a decrease of $2,429.97 from the year 1897. The total revenue from all classes of payers of purchase tax for 1898 was $47,116.83; an increase of $19,767.37 over the year 1896, and an increase of $7,640.02 over the year 1897.

The revenue from the tax imposed on lawyers, physicians and dentists for 1898 was $12,227.81; a decrease of $8,067.19 from the year 1897. A partial explanation of this decrease is, that part of the revenue reported for 1897 was collected in 1896 under the provision of the Act of 1895, imposing a license tax of $10 on each profession. The Act of 1897 reduced the license tax to $5 on each profession.

The receipts from the graduated franchise or license tax, on the capital stock of private business corporations for 1898 were $11,226.66; an increase of $5,316.66 over the year 1896, and an increase of $3,797.70 over the year 1897.

Marriages licenses, at one dollar each, yielded for the year 1898 $16,284; an increase of $2,800 over the year 1896, and an increase of $2,062 over the year 1897.

Under Schedules "B" and "C" certain taxes are imposed which are not collected and reported by Sheriffs and Tax Collectors, but are paid directly to some State Department. With one or two exceptions the variations of the receipts from such sources are not of such consequence as to merit special reference or mention. It may be specially noted that the Revenue Act of 1895 imposed an annual license tax of two hundred and fifty dollars on dealers in pianos and organs. The revenue from this source in 1896 was $1,750. The Act of 1897 amended this section, and imposed a tax of $10 on each brand of instrument sold; and under such provision the revenue from this source for 1897 was $450, and for 1898, $409.14.

It should be remarked that the figures and comparisons presented above are taken from a summary of the face of returns made to this Department by the various counties, and the receipts as thus reported do not represent the actual net revenue to the State. Such State taxes as are collected by Sheriffs and Tax Collectors are subject to a general deduction of 5 per cent, for commissions, before being paid into the Public Treasury.

EXPENDITURES.

Comment on expenditures generally can not materially add to the information concerning them as presented in Statement D, Part I, of this Report; but some note of two or three items may be made to advantage.

The item "Legal Services and Expenses," amounting to an ay of $5,206.71 is subject to a deduction of $930, as shown by the Public Fund Receipts under the head of "Contingencies," making the net disbursements for this purpose $4,276.71.

The expenditures shown under the head "Supplemental Appropriation to Public Schools," amounting to $10,586.70, were made under the provisions of chapter 421, Laws 1897, which authorizes the payment, by the State, to any school district, an amount equal to what such district may raise for public school purposes by special taxation, the amount not to exceed $500 per annum for any one district.

The account of "Contingencies" in the exhibit of disbursements is enlarged for the month of November, in consequence of an expenditure of $2,437.80 for a permanent improvement in the sidewalks around the Capitol Square.

STATE GUARD, SPECIAL.

The expenditures for 1898 for the State Guard, under the head "State Guard, Special," appear to be abnormally large, and are to be accounted for by conditions imposed in the mobilization of United States Volunteers, North Carolina State Troops, for the Spanish-American war. Under the call for volunteers by the President of the United States, and the apportionment asked from each State, some expense was incurred by North Carolina in inspecting the State Guard, that would not have been otherwise necessary. This particular expense, while legitimately chargeable to the State Guard, is held as a claim against the United States Government, the claim being based on a telegram from the Adjutant-General of the United States to the Governor of the State, which reads as follows:

WASHINGTON. D. C., April 27, 1898.

THE GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA,

Raleigh, N. C.

The following decision of the Secretary of War, of this date, is communicated for your information:

All absolutely necessary expenses for the subsistence, transportation, sheltering, and generally the maintenance of volunteers during the interval between their enrollment (enlistment) and their muster (or being sworn) into the service of the United States; also all incidental expenses connected therewith, such as the hire of offices, clerks, messengers, etc., for mustering officers, will be met by the Government of the United States from the proper appropriation at the disposal of the several staff departments of the army. Certified vouchers for all expenditures herein authorized will be forwarded to the War Department for audit and payment. The vouchers should be certified by officers of the proper staff departments and approved by the mustering officers.

H. C. CORBIN,
Adjutant-General.

At the beginning of the movement of volunteers, the State assumed the responsibility of necessary expenses in connection therewith until the arrival of United States officers, who were assigned to the special duty of conducting the mobilization and organizing the troops. After the arrival of these officers, all claims and bills of expense were referred to them, and by them were forwarded to the authorities at Washington. While these claims and bills of expense were awaiting adjustment, the State authorities were advised by United States Government officials, through direct correspondence and official documents, that claims and bills of expense, incurred by the State on account of the mobilization of volunteers, would not be audited and paid by the United States Government until they had first been paid by the State; and following this advice, the various claims which had been forwarded to Washington, were returned to the State authorities for primary payment.

With a view to affording relief to various claimants, and of expediting a general adjustment and settlement of all claims, this Department, by and with the advice and approval of the Council of State, issued warrants on the State Treasurer for the payment of claims filed and properly approved: the procedure being based on the advices contained in the telegram from the Adjutant-General of the United States, above referred to, and on the provisions of sections 3257 and 3273 of The Code.

Of the items above presented the United States Government has audited and paid the following:

Total	906.06

The above amount ($906.06) has been paid into the State Treasury by the United States Government, and disbursed by the State Treasurer for the purposes indicated by the numbers of the warrants expressed. There is, therefore, a balance of claims for the year 1898, not audited or paid by the United States Government, of $22,401.90.

The State Treasurer has paid warrants, issued on this account, independently of the amount received from the United States Government, for the year 1898, as follows:

Warrant.	Amount.
15499.....	$9.46
15729.....	8.87

The aggregate of the amounts paid by the United States Government ($906.06), and the State Treasurer ($534.47) is $1,440.53; leaving outstanding warrants on this account for the year ending November 30, 1898, to the amount of $21,837.43.

Since the close of the fiscal year other claims and bills of expense have been properly filed on this account, and warrants issued therefor to the amount of $1,222.59; and it is estimated that additional claims may be presented to the amount of $1,500.

TAXABLE VALUES AND SUBJECTS.

The annual reports issued by this Department express the taxable value of real and personal property for the preceding year. The Report for 1897 expressed the taxable value of such property for the year 1896, and this Report (1898) presents the taxable value of such property as returned for the year 1897. The assessed value of railroad, telegraph and steamboat property is expressed by each Report for the same year for which the Report is issued.

The aggregate value of all property returned for taxation in the State for the year 1896 was $257,437,227.99. This is the lowest aggregate value of property reported for taxation since 1892.

This Report (1898) shows the aggregate value of property returned for taxation to be $265,867,197.99. This is the highest aggregate of taxable property ever reported for the State.

The increase in value for 1898 over the year 1896 is $8,429,970.

The sources of this increase are as follows:

Real and personal property, increase.....	$1,386,198.00
Telegraph property, increase.....	588,236.20
Steamboat and canal property, increase.....	12,157.00
Railroad property, increase.....	6,443,378.80
Total increase.....	$8,429,970.00

The above constitutes a comparative statement of the taxable value of various divisions of property for the years 1896 and 1898.

The comparative statement of the values of the same divisions of property for the consecutive years 1897 and 1898 will show the following:

Aggregate value, 1898.....	$265,867,197.99
Aggregate value, 1897.....	259,011,508.23
Increase for 1898 over 1897.....	$6,855,689.76

The sources of this increase are as follows:

Real and personal property, increase.....	$2,392,920.00
Telegraph property, increase.....	383,619.72
Steamboat property, increase.....	16,120.00
Railroad property, increase.....	4,063,030.04
Total increase for 1898 over 1897.....	$6,855,689.76

A condensed comparison for the years 1897 and 1898 is as follows:

1898. Value real and personal property ..	$232,247,329.00
1897. Value real and personal property ..	229,854,409.23
Increase over 1897.....	$2,392,920.00
1898. Value railroad, steamboat and canal property ..	33,619,868.99
1897. Value railroad, steamboat and canal property ..	29,157,099.23
Increase over 1897.....	4,462,769.76
Total increase over 1897.....	6,855,689.76

During the period from 1892 to 1897, there was from year to year a persistent decrease in the taxable value of real and personal property, and the total decrease for that time was $12,595,392. An increase in the taxable value of real and personal property for 1898 over 1897 makes a net decrease in the value of such property from 1892 to 1898 of $10,202,472.

During the same period (1892 to 1898) there has been an increase in the assessed value of railroad, telegraph, steamboat and canal property of $13,893,108.43.

The tax returns covered by this report show some decrease in the numbers of cattle, sheep and hogs, but an increase in the taxable value of the same. Horses and mules show an increase in numbers and value.

Invisible property, comprehending money, solvent credits and shares in companies, shows an increase of $1,366,479.

There is an increase of 9,483 white polls for 1898 over 1897, and an increase of 7,365 colored polls.

ESTIMATED RECEIPTS FOR 1899.

The reports made to this Department by the various counties during the year 1898, state the values on which taxes will be collected for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1899. Reports from eighty-one counties indicate an aggregate increase of two and one-half millions of dollars on real and personal property, over the value of such property as compared with the returns stated in this Report.

The receipts from sources of revenue under the provisions of Schedules "B" and "C" are regulated to a considerable extent by the activity of county officers, who are charged with listing and collecting such taxes. It is difficult to correctly estimate the receipts from such sources; but such returns as are available for comparison do not indicate that there will be any considerable variation from the receipts of 1898. A general summary of the sources of revenue, and the probable net amount from each source for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1899, may be stated as follows:

Alexander County bonds.....	$1,000
Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad dividends	25,000
Banks, license tax on.....	7,500
Bank stock, tax on.....	10,500
Building and Loan Associations, license tax	1,000
Building and Loan Associations, tax on.....	1,700

Corporation tax	$2,000
Express companies	3,000
Fees from various State departments	1,400
Insurance companies, license tax	27,000
Insurance companies, 2 per cent on receipts	58,000
Public taxes, per sheriffs and tax collectors	592,000
Railroad, telegraph, steamboat and canal property	76,000
Seal tax from various State departments	1,000
Sewing machine companies, license tax	2,000
Other sources	14,000

	823,100

This estimate does not take into account the Pension Fund. It is based on the present rate of twenty-one and two-thirds cents on the one hundred dollars for general State purposes, and the present Revenue Act.

The estimate of expenditures, which will be made by the State Treasurer, is approved by the Auditor.

PENSIONS.

A condensed statement of the pension legislation of the State may be seen by reference to the Auditor's Report for 1897.

The amount disbursed for pensions during the year 1898 was $100,840.50. The total amount paid for pensions since the first Pension Act, in 1876, is $1,090,440.01.

The pension roll for 1898 shows the number of pensioners to be 5,466, a net increase of 46 over the year 1898. They are classified as follows:

Special (Act 1883)	34
First Class	130
Second Class	268
Third Class	393
Fourth Class	1,955
Widows	2,686
Total	5,466

The existing pension laws of the State restrict the granting of pensions to only such applicants as can produce evidence of having been wounded while in service. The contraction of disease, while in service, is not held to be a sufficient cause for favorable consideration of an applicant, though in numerous cases the degree of actual disability resulting from the contraction of disease may exceed that resulting from wounds.

TAXATION OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

In the Auditor's Report for 1897 some effort is made to direct attention to apparent irregularities in the listing of real property for taxation, and while an effort to remedy such irregularities might be confronted with serious difficulties, any effort to secure a proper and full listing of what may be comprehended under the term "Personal Property" would be met by still greater difficulties.

The general idea on which the revenue system of this State is based is that, in order to tax equitably, it is necessary to tax practically everything, beginning with real estate and including specifically live stock, farming utensils, household and kitchen furniture, money, credits of every character, checks, accounts, certificates of deposit, investments, stocks, bonds, etc., etc., and finally making a clean sweep by requiring a listing for taxation of "all other property whatever." A description of the system may be summed up by the designation "General Property Tax." It may be possible to secure a reasonably fair listing of such personal property as live-stock, bicycles, farming utensils, kitchen furniture, fire-arms, etc., because such property is tangible and visible, and under a vigorous regime could not escape detection; but the same effort that would put this property on the tax books would fail significantly in discovering and listing such property as money, credits, notes, investments, accounts, checks and the like. The matter of establishing a fair and reasonable plan by which this species of property can be brought from its hiding and be made to pay its just proportion of taxes, is a subject which has been much discussed, and might be discoursed on almost indefinitely. It has been a matter of more concern and trouble to the framers of revenue acts, the country over, than all other subjects combined. Some States have adopted very stringent laws, with a view to compelling a full listment of what is commonly included in solvent credits, but no law seems to have ever been successful in accomplishing the end sought. Our own law is perhaps as stringent as any concerning the failure or refusal to make a proper return, but there is no machinery to ascertain whether or not such proper return is made. We could illustrate by citing the fact that in this State an individual who makes a false return of property of any kind, may be held guilty of perjury. This appears simple and comparatively harmless to the casual reader, but our Penal Code prescribes as punishment for perjury a fine which may amount to $1,000, and imprisonment in the county jail or penitentiary of not less than four months or more than ten years. This provision of the law, however, seems to have no terror for taxpayers generally, for no case can be cited in this State of a person charged with perjury in making tax returns, and no machinery is provided to discover whether or not the taxpayer is ever guilty of perjury within the meaning of this provision. Some States have prescribed specific punishment for fraudulent listing of this kind of property, and it may be interesting to note some of these laws, as evidence of the kind of faith that those States have in the integrity of their citizens, and also as an illustration of efforts to induce citizens to make proper returns.

Massachusetts provides for the fraudulent listing and return of property, a specific punishment of a fine of $1,000 and imprisonment one year.

Pennsylvania imposes a punishment of a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, imprisonment and solitary confinement at labor for seven years, and perpetual disqualification as a witness in any matter or controversy.

Missouri imposes a fine of three times the amount of tax that would be due on a true return, and a punishment the same as that for perjury.

Kentucky provides a punishment of a fine of $500 and a payment of three times the amount of tax upon the real value of the estate.

Indiana makes false listing subject to a fine of $5,000.

Other States have various punishments, but all seem to be defective in such machinery as would lead to the detection of a fraudulent return, even if one were suspected. It may be interesting to know that some States are not willing to trust their citizens in listing so tangible and visible a property as land. For instance, the State of Louisiana provides that tax assessors shall go to the office in that State which corresponds with our office of Register of Deeds, and examine the records and conveyances and deeds made for lands, and thus ascertain whether the returns of land correspond with the records of the township or parish office.

During the session of the last General Assembly, the matter of securing an approximately reasonable tax from solvent credits was a subject of consideration by the Finance Committee. While the matter was under discussion, it was suggested by the State Auditor that an enactment requiring evidence that a solvent credit had been listed for taxation, before such credit could be collected by process of law, would perhaps be of some effect. A provision of this kind was drawn and presented. Great pressure was brought to bear on the Committee by large holders of solvent credits, to reject this provision. The pleas of "exposing private matters to public gaze;" "driving capital out of the State," etc., were urged with persistency and effect, and the provision failed of adoption.

Yet, well-established precedents would have warranted and justified its enactment, inasmuch as there existed a well-defined purpose to tax the kinds of personal property to which it referred. We may cite the State of Maryland, in which it will be readily acknowledged there is more capital and solvent credits than in North Carolina, and in the revenue laws of that State is the following enactment:

"If any person shall, with a view to evade the payment of taxes, fail to refuse to give in to the assessor any bonds, notes, claims or other evidences of debt which are subject to assessment and taxation under this act, the same shall not be recoverable by action at law or suit in equity before any of the courts of this State, until they have been listed and the tax paid thereon, with an addition of 50 per centum per annum from the time the tax accrued, and the failure to give in said bonds, notes, claims or other evidences of debt shall be taken as prima facie evidence of the intention to so evade payment of taxes."

The State of Virginia may be reasonably regarded as one in which capital and solvent credits are more extensive than in North Carolina, and that Commonwealth, also, has in its Revenue Act a provision precisely like that one just quoted from the Revenue Act of the State of Maryland. I have not had an opportunity to closely examine the revenue laws of all the States, but it is quite probable that there can be found in some of them similar enactments.

A question as to what effect such legislation, above quoted, can have along the line of its direction logically presents itself for consideration. I have taken the liberty of corresponding with officials of some of the States whose Revenue Acts are referred to, asking if their laws with reference to the listing of personal property are effective, and if they have resulted in any issues or cases in court.

The Tax Commissioner of the State of Maryland replied as follows:

"The section you refer to has never been tested in any court in this State, and I doubt very much if it will be for some time to come. It is practically a dead letter, but should the time ever come when it shall be used in one or two cases, I am of the opinion that it will have a very beneficial effect.

"The subject of taxation and assessment is a matter of very active interest in our State, and we are looking for all the light and information we can get upon the subject."

The Auditor of Public Accounts of the State of Virginia wrote as follows:

"The provision in the tax law of this State (one above quoted) has been in force many years, but I have never heard of its being pleaded as a bar to the collection of a note, bond or other evidence of debt. Doubtless this law induces the listing for taxation of some bonds, notes or other evidences of debt, which otherwise would not be listed; but the nature of the case renders it impossible to tell the extent to which it has this effect.

“ The question of extent of bonds, notes, stocks and money which escape taxation because the assessing officers can not find them, and the holders fail to disclose them has never been answered, and never will be. The person who can devise a way to reach this property is worth much more than his weight in gold to any Government.”

The Auditor of the State of Massachusetts wrote as follows:

“ Under section 29, of chapter 11, of our Public Statutes, there is a fine of not exceeding one thousand dollars or imprisonment in jail not exceeding one year, in cases where a fraudulent list of property is returned to the assessors, evidently with the intent to defeat or evade the provisions of law in relation to the assessment or payment of taxes. I can not learn that any case has ever come before any court in this State for a violation of this section of the law. * * * Unquestionably large amounts of personal property escape taxation, and it is a question to-day what remedy can be applied by legislation to overcome this difficulty in securing the full and just returns of all personal property.”

The Auditor-General of the State of Pennsylvania wrote as follows:

“ In answer to your first inquiry with reference to the fine of $500, and imprisonment and perpetual disqualification as a witness for making a false and fraudulent return, I would state that said provision has been found to be effective in securing correct returns of personal property subject to taxation for State purposes.”

The Auditor of the State of Kentucky wrote as follows:

“ I have never known of a prosecution under the section you mention (see above), and can not say that I have considered the section as heretofore being effective. I have known of some cases where fear of prosecution under this section has induced certain parties to give in property for taxation, but very few. I think our experience in Kentucky is like that of all other States, the personal property being largely hidden from taxation."

The evidence offered by these and similar communications is to the effect that rigorous laws are partially effective, and may increase in effectiveness in procuring the listing of certain property on which a tax is imposed; and if it be true, as is claimed by some recognized authorities, that there are few States in which the taxable value of real property would exceed the value of personal property, were all the personal property listed, it is evident that large interests are escaping the taxation they are legally required to bear.

Provision for detecting fraudulent returns of invisible and intangible property seems not to have been generally attempted by many States, or if attempted, has proven a failure and is not operative. There are in some States, however, provisions which may prove interesting in this respect. New York is a State in which capital and solvent credits are supposed to exist in considerable quantities. Reference to the Revenue Act of that State shows that a reward is offered to any person who will discover and report to the State Comptroller or proper officer, a fraudulent return on the part of any citizen. It further makes it the duty of any person having knowledge of any attempt at evasion, or fraudulent return, to make such report, and the Comptroller or Auditor may employ the person giving such information to assist in the prosecution, and shall pay such informer so much as his services are worth in the action and for the information.

As far back as 1804, the State of Georgia enacted a law providing a reward for information against, and conviction of, any person who should make a fraudulent or false return of his property. Some years after its enactment a citizen of that State, in accordance with the provision of its laws, lodged a charge against a wealthy resident of a false return of his property. No attempt was made on the part of the person charged with fraud to show that he had not made a false return, but by a technicality such as can at times be devised, the law was declared inoperative. It never had been repealed, however, and has not been repealed to this day.

A chief reason for the inefficacy of such legislation as seeks to impose and collect a "General Property Tax" is the persistent omission to supplement it with such machinery as might make it effective. Legislative bodies seem to overlook or avoid an effort to create such machinery, and in the isolated cases in which such machinery appears, executive officers shrink from an attempt to apply it. This conclusion is so well settled in the minds of some well-known economists and writers on taxation, as to inspire them to discuss and advocate an abandonment of the system of a "General Property Tax" altogether. A discussion of this proposition can not be entered into here, but as a matter of interest and information a few opinions concerning it may be cited.

In 1893 the State of Ohio appointed a Tax Commission of four eminent and well-qualified citizens. The laws of that State were unusually exacting and stringent under the "General Property Tax" system, but were, apparently, not effective, for in its report the Tax Commission said:

"The system as it is actually administered results in debauching the moral sense. It is a school of perjury. It sends large amounts of property into hiding. Worst of all, it imposes unjust burdens upon various classes in the community; upon the farmer in the country, all of whose property is taxed because it is tangible; upon the man who is scrupulously honest; and upon the guardian, executor and trustee, whose accounts are matters of public record. These burdens are unjust because, by the system as administered, these people pay the taxes which should be paid by their neighbors." *

A Tax Commission in New Hampshire recognized the inefficacy of the existing laws for the taxation of personal property and their "corrupting and demoralizing influences," and admitted that they were unable to frame any law to which a free people would submit, or should be asked to submit, that would bring this class of property under actual assessment effectually.

An Illinois Commission asserted that the system "is debauching to the conscience and subversive of public morals—a school for perjury promoted by law."

A Connecticut Commission reported that "the results of an investigation of nearly three years into the workings of our tax system have brought us to the conclusion that all items of intangible property ought to be struck off the list. As the law stands, it may be a burden on the conscience of many, but it is a burden on the property of the few, not because there are few who ought to pay, but because there are few who can be made to pay."

A West Virginia Commission asserted that "the payment of tax on personalty is almost as voluntary, and is considered pretty much in the same light as donations to the neighboring church or Sunday School."

A system of taxation to supplant the one now in operation in this State and which is in operation in nearly all the other States of the Union, could not, in all probability, be recommended without incurring the charge of rashness; but the present system is rapidly acquiring a reputation as a makeshift and failure. Only in the States of the United States and in Holland is there any effort to make it operative, and it must be modified or supplanted by some other system at no distant day. To this end, the General Assembly could do nothing better than to provide, through the establishment of a Commission or otherwise, for extended study and recommendations on the subject. Such a Commission was raised by the General Assembly of 1885, and the general plan and system reported by it have never been reconsidered. Changing conditions and new ideas and theories demand more attention than can be properly given them by those busied with other affairs, or those whose time for consideration is limited to a session of the General Assembly.

If the existing system is to remain in acceptance, there is no escape from the reasonable conclusion that one kind of property should be subjected to as rigorous tax laws as any other kind. Real estate and other visible property are required by law to show some evidence of having been listed for taxation, and that the tax has been paid to prevent a sale for taxes, or practical confiscation. Why should not all property, taxable by law, be subjected to similarly effective regulations—especially such as yields certain annual profit in the form of interest to the owner? While there are various opinions concerning it, the method by which this can be most approximately accomplished appears to be the enactment of a provision making all credits, subject to taxation, non-collectible by process of law, unless evidence can be produced that the taxes due thereon have been paid.

OYSTER CASE CLAIM.

There is on file in this Department a copy of a judgment setting forth the fact that the State of North Carolina is indebted to certain persons, in connection with the Pamlico County Oyster Cases, to the amount of $4,096.60. While the liability of the State, under this judgment, is not questioned by the Auditor, no warrant has been issued by him in favor of the claimants.

It does not appear that any appropriation has ever been made for liquidation of claims of this character, and the absence of such an appropriation, together with the fact that no law has been cited which seems to clearly authorize the issue of a warrant in discharge of the claim, has suggested the advisability of referring the matter to the consideration of the General Assembly.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

The operation of Building and Loan Associations in the State appears to be but little more than passive. Local organizations practically meet the demand for business of this character. But few non-residents or foreign associations, sufficiently strong to promote and create extensive interest, apply for license to conduct business. The number of licenses issued during the year was thirty-three (33). Of these twenty-seven (27) were issued to domestic associations and six to foreign. The reports submitted by these associations indicate good management and stability.

PRODUCE STATISTICS.

There is a growing demand for an approximate knowledge of the annual product of stable commodities in the State, such as cotton, corn, wheat, tobacco, peanuts, etc. While the acquirement and tabulation of such information may more properly belong to the Bureau of Labor Statistics than to this Department, the information could be collected and reported by the same machinery employed for listing property for taxation, and the reports of taxable property made to the Auditor could include the reports of products.

AUDITOR'S DEPARTMENT.

It can be positively asserted that the Auditor's Department has never had proper appreciation from the General Assembly, nor has it ever been sufficiently provided for in the matter of clerical force. The duties imposed on it by law are much more onerous than those of any other State department, and its possibilities, with an organization necessary to fully perform those duties, are far more extensive than any other. It is evidently designed to be the key for discovering and opening up channels for public revenue under legal regulation, as well as to keep an account of the same; but a full working out of details which would prove advantageous in either purpose can never be reasonably hoped for with such force as can be commanded under existing conditions. Evidences have been noted by the present incumbent of salutary purposes and plans, begun by former Auditors, which apparently had to be abandoned for want of adequate assistance to carry them to completion.

A moderately fair consideration of the Department, in its relation to the public service, would result in the legal establishment of an additional clerkship, and if it be desirable that its equipment should approximate that of corresponding departments in other States, legal provision should also be made for a stenographer.

The salary of the Chief Clerk should not be less than one thousand and five hundred dollars per annum.

The volume of business, now conducted by the Department, would not be undertaken by any banking house or well-organized business concern with less than two or three times its present force, working during customary business hours.

Simple justice requires unreserved and appreciative acknowledgment of the services of Mr. John A. Sims, the Chief Clerk of this Department. None could be more faithful to duty, and to him is largely due the credit of anything that may have been accomplished by this office during the year.

And to you, Governor, I have the pleasure of again expressing obligations for never-failing courtesy, and for such advice and assistance as would have been indispensable; and, I am,

Most respectfully yours,

HAL. W. AYER,
Auditor.
